Red China Pounds Amoy Isles; U.S. Ponders Own Role

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communists stepped up their artillery attack on the Tan Islands in Amoy Bay today, hurling a blistering 7,120 shells into the 136 Nationalist-held acres in an hour.

It was the heaviest concentration in the nearly four years of vest pocket war in the Formosa Strait.

The bombardment heightened speculation that the Communists soon would try to take the islets. Only 2½ miles from their port of Amoy, they are used by the Nationalists as lookout posts from which to alert naval forces blockading Amoy.

The Nationalist island fortress of Quemoy, 15 miles out from Amoy, got off relatively lightly. The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Reds fired 783 rounds at Quemoy during a four-hour period beginning at dawn. Then the Communist guns turned on the Tans.

Peiping radio warned the Quemoy defenders to surrender or die. The sharp retort from Taipei was "come on and see what happens."

U. S. officials say a new Peiping threat will weigh heavily in any decision by President Eisenhower against any Red Chinese invaders in the Formosa Straits.

The State Department was so impressed by Peiping's statement that it issued a hands-off warning to the Chinese Communists Thursday.

The United States is pledged by treaty to defend Formosa and the nearby Pescadore Islands, about 100 miles across the strait from the China mainland.

Congress left it up to Eisenhower to decide whether any Red Chinese attack on Quemoy and Matsu, small islands closer to the mainland, was the start of an attack on Formosa and the Pescadores.

If the President decided it was, his next step could be to oppose it with the U. S. 7th Fleet and other American military power.

This, in part, is what Peiping radio said, as Red guns pounded Quemoy and Matsu in a continuing bombardment.

The Chinese people's liberation army is determined to liberate the fatherland's territory of Taiwan (Formosa) and the coastal islands.

The Red radio called on Nationalist defenders of Quemoy to surrender, saying "the island is doomed . . . a landing is imminent."

U. S. officials said this is probably the toughest such statement yet made by the Red Chinese on this highly inflammable subject.

There was speculation on Formosa that if the Reds really intended to invade the Quemoy area they would not broadcast it in advance.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that Quemoy and Matsu no longer are considered mere outposts. He said they never before, with one-third of the island's forces deployed on the little islands within sight of the China mainland.

But Eisenhower refused to be drawn out on whether this would affect his judgment on whether Quemoy and Matsu should be defended by U. S. forces. He counseled newsmen that this was a military decision which could not be made until after the event—that is, any Red Chinese assault on the offshore islands.

Carrier, Cruiser Head for Formosa

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today the aircraft carrier Midway and the heavy cruiser German court today sentenced 10 wartime Nazi SS officers and men to prison terms of from 3 to 15 years for the murder of 5,202 Lithuanian Jews in 1941.

The mass murder occurred in the German-Lithuanian border area during the beginning of the Nazi invasion of the Soviet Union.

Virginia School to Integrate; Faces Closure by State

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Norfolk School Board, complying with an 18-month-old federal court order to end racial segregation in the public schools, announced today it will enroll 17 Negroes in white schools.

Under Virginia's program of massive resistance to school integration, a school that is integrated is automatically closed.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. was not immediately available for comment on today's developments.

The board reported its action to Federal District Judge Walter E. Hoffman after three days spent in reconsidering previously rejected applications of 151 Negroes for admission to white schools.

The board said the 17 children will be enrolled for the school year beginning Sept. 8.

It said it took the action contrary to what all of the members of the school board and the division superintendent of schools honestly and sincerely believe is in the best interests of the applying children the children in the affected schools and the public in

WHS Band Gets Ready for Fall Football Shows

HIGHER, GIRLS, HIGHER -- Robert Neumann, (right), Washington C. H. High School Band director, shows majorettes how high they should lift their knees while marching. Six band practices were held this week, three marching drills at the Gardner Park practice field and three music sessions at the band room in the high school. For the Friday morning session at the field, 90 of the 103 members turned out for the practice. The band will give its first show at the preview game here on Sept. 5. The show for the first game on Sept. 12 with Logan has already been written and work will start on it next week. When school starts, the band will rehearse during the eighth period of classes and also some after school hours. Pictured above are six of the nine majorettes, Julianna Wilson, freshman; Joyce Bachelor, freshman; Ann Johnson, junior; Nancy Graves, freshman; Oleta Hilliard, freshman, and Judy Lundberg, junior. In the center is seven-year-old Jo Ellen (JoJo) Lytton, the band's mascot. JoJo, a second grader, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lytton, was also the mascot last year. She marches in front of the band led by the drum major, Randy Mann. Other majorettes are Nancy Marting, Martha Mickie and Paulette Pennington.

School Integration Showdown Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The highly-charged Little Rock school integration issue hung suspended today after a supreme court decision to delay a showdown for at least two weeks.

After hearing more than three hours of arguments in extraordinary session Thursday, the nine justices went behind closed doors and decided to hold another hearing on Sept. 11.

At that time, the high court will consider the basic question of whether there should be a 2½ year delay in resuming racial mixing of pupils at Little Rock's Central High School.

There was some question as to whether Central High will reopen before the new arguments are heard and the high court acts.

The hearing Thursday technically was on a shorter-range phase of the problem.

But it was the underlying issue of racial integration in the public schools—and the role of Little Rock as storm center of that four-year-old controversy—that focused national attention on the dramatic yet solemn proceedings in the vaulted chamber.

The softly lighted room with its burgundy drapes and marble columns was filled to its limited capacity of 177 spectators, plus lawyers and newsmen. Hundreds of other waited in the corridors outside, mostly in vain.

The justices, clad in their black silk robes, listened intently to the lawyers' arguments, interrupting from time to time for a question or a comment.

Ranged on one side of the dispute were Thurgood Marshall, Negro counsel for the National Assn.

Faubus Plans His Strategy

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus today held a fistful of powerful bills he believes he can drop on the table, one by one, to block forcible integration of schools.

Apparently that's the way he plans to use the bills, if necessary.

A special session of the Arkansas Legislature Thursday whipped through final passage the six bills in Faubus' anti-integration program.

The question of whether the federal government will move to integrate Little Rock schools next month remains in abeyance. The U. S. Supreme Court heard arguments in the Little Rock case Thursday but put off a decision for two weeks.

Faubus' bills will not be released by the Legislature until he calls for them. He said he hadn't decided when this would be.

First, the governor said, he must decide whether to sign a joint legislative resolution extending the special session until Jan. 10—two days before the start of the regular biennial term of the Legislature.

Faubus said he would make the latter decision today.

The legislators agreed to go home at noon today but, with Faubus' consent they will be on a standby basis. Technically the special session will be in recess and subject to recall at a moment's notice.

If the Legislature delivered the anti-integration bills to Faubus, he would have to sign them in five days or they would die. However, as Faubus pointed out, the bills could be retained by the secretaries of the House and Senate until Jan. 10—the actual end of the special session if it is extended. That would give him until Jan. 15 to act.

Among other things the anti-integration measures call for closing a school faced with federally ordered integration. Such a school could be leased as a private corporation and students' tuition would be paid for them.

NATO Test Called Off

ATHENS (AP)—NATO exercise scheduled along the Greek-Turkish border in mid-September has been canceled. The reason reportedly was the continuing dispute over Cyprus.

for the Advancement of Colored People, and J. Lee Rankin, mild-mannered solicitor general of the United States.

On the other side was Richard C. Butler, grey-haired lawyer for the Little Rock School Board who made his points in a slow Arkansas drawl.

Although the debate was carried on for the most part in calm, dispassionate tones, there loomed in the background the anti-integration mob violence in Little Rock last year, and President Eisenhower's use of federal troops to enforce court-ordered integration at Central High.

Appeal Notice Filed in Bond Suit Dismissal

Counsel for Sam B. Marting, Concord Township, have filed notice of appeal from an order of Common Pleas Court dismissing Marting's suit against members of the Miami Trace Board of Education.

The case is being taken to the Second District appellate court on questions of law.

Judge John P. Case, on Aug. 20, sustained a Miami Trace Board motion for dismissal of the suit on grounds that it was a "frivolous" pleading.

Marting had set up five causes of action in his petition attacking the Miami Trace building bond issue.

Escapees Nabbed In Rural Cemetery

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Three men who used an old-fashioned cigarette rolling device to break jail are back in custody today.

They were caught in a cemetery about 15 miles north of here Thursday after someone spotted them washing themselves near a hand pump. Officers said the escapees apparently had stayed in the cemetery since their break Sunday night.

Sheriff Carl E. Rose said the men fashioned a key from the metal cigarette roller and used it to open the second story cellblock door at the Lawrence County Jail here. They then opened a window and slid down a utility pole, Rose said.

The three are Ray Adams, 28, Waverly; John Coburn, 30, Milton, W. Va., and McKinley Boles, 35, Rt. 1, Ironton. Adams, convicted earlier on a robbery charge, was awaiting sentencing at the time of the jailbreak. Boles and Coburn were awaiting grand jury action on armed robbery charges.

Hurricane Poses Little Threat Now

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hurricane Daisy swept north-eastward along the New England coast today but its threat to all but offshore waters around Cape Cod was reported practically eliminated.

The Boston Weather Bureau said the storm was decreasing in intensity and its danger to land areas largely terminated.

Earlier uncertainty as to what the New England storm effect would be, however, caused a delay until later today in President Eisenhower's flight to Newport, R.I., for a vacation.

By midmorning the storm center was reported 70 miles south of Nantucket.

Taxman's Job: Make Friends

Outgoing Chief Gives Views on U.S. Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russell C. Harrington said today the biggest task in being internal revenue commissioner is not squeezing money out of reluctant taxpayers, but hiring the right people and promoting good relations with the public.

Harrington spoke in an interview after deciding to end nearly three years as the nation's chief tax collector.

The 67-year-old Rhode Islander handed his resignation to President Eisenhower Thursday. The President regretfully accepted it, effective Sept. 30, and started looking for a new commissioner. Harrington said he doesn't know who his successor might be.

In a letter to the outgoing commissioner, Eisenhower spoke of the personal sacrifice he said often accompanies service like Harrington's. The revenue post pays $21,000 a year—not a high salary for a successful businessman who maintains two homes—in Providence and Washington—and likes to take his wife along on travels about the country.

Harrington said he plans to stay in Washington, working for his old accounting firm of Ernst & Ernst.

An aide said the retiring commissioner would serve his company as a contact man with federal agencies—all agencies, that is, except the Internal Revenue Service.

Reflecting on his experiences as revenue chief, Harrington said "this is fundamentally an administrative and public relations job," adding: "The job of the commissioner is to see that he has a good organization of top people. He has frequent meetings and reports and he has to meet congressmen, and taxpayers and make speeches to various organizations throughout the country."

Seaway Cruise Booked

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill today invited New York Gov. Averell Harriman and Prime Minister Leslie M. Forster of Ontario, Can., to be guests on the first cruise ship through the St. Lawrence Seaway Sept. 6.

President's OK Gives Victory To Benson in Support Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill permitting reductions in some farm price supports and forestalling scheduled acreage cutbacks for cotton and rice next year.

The President's signature sealed a hard-won victory for the beleaguered policies of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The bill capped a two-year battle between Benson and Congress over maintaining government price supports at high levels, or taking the administration road toward lower supports and more flexible management of the farm program.

The measure came to the President only after a last-ditch stand by high-support forces in Congress, and following a presidential veto earlier this year of a support "freeze" bill.

Benson plugged for flexible price supports with the floor rate lowered to 60 per cent of parity. What he got was a minimum of 65 per cent.

Parity is a price level determined by legal formula as one fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The new law also extends the wool subsidy act another three years and opens the door to elimination of acreage quotas for corn.

It heads off sharp acreage cuts in cotton and rice.

The new law pegs cotton plantings, plus an additional 310,000 acres to prevent small planters from being cut below 10 acres or their 1958 allotments.

For the 1959 and 1960 crops, cotton growers will have the choice of their regular acreage allotments and price supports at not less than 80 per cent of parity, or up to 40 per cent more acreage and a lower price support of 65 per cent of parity. In 1961, the support floor drops to 70 per cent for all cotton farmers, and in 1962 to 65 per cent.

For rice, a planting allotment of 1,652,996 acres is assured for the next three years. A parity 1959 and 1960, 70 per cent for 1961, and 65 per cent for 1962 and thereafter.

Corn growers get a choice, through referendum, of continuing the present program for corn or taking a new one.

New Spy Gear Being Installed

Any Rocket Launching To Be Spotted Quickly

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — A U. S. congressman reported today that the United States has developed electronic equipment which can use the moon to "tell what is going on" on the entire surface of the earth.

"We can monitor the whole world," Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.) told newsmen after referring publicly to the moon system at the meeting here of the International Astronautical Federation.

"This equipment now is being installed," he declared. "It uses the moon as an artificial satellite. It is startling. It is a great breakthrough."

Fulton hinted that the system could detect instantaneously the launching of intercontinental ballistic missiles or nuclear explosions.

The moon reconnaissance system was mentioned briefly by Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, chief of naval research and development, in a congressional hearing last April.

Fulton, a Republican member of the House Committee for Astronautics and Exploration of Outer Space, said the method works on a principle of ion emission. Ions are electrified atoms.

Without giving specific details, he implied the detection operates by spotting ionization created by such forces as explosions or rocket launchings.

"It sees things back on earth," he said. "It involves bouncing waves off the moon. It is not radar."

"I know we are first in having this," he declared when asked whether the Soviets might also know about the system.

Questioned whether it could detect the takeoff of an intercontinental missile, he replied: "I am not allowed to be that specific, but such a rocket is a high-powered vehicle. We pick up the fact of what is there. The moon reflects what is going on."

Fulton said he as not allowed to say whether there would have to be installations on different or opposite sides of the earth to use the moon when it is not visible or in position over the United States.

The system should be operating soon, Fulton added. German and Japanese scientists made some of the early discoveries on which the system is based, Fulton said, also crediting the British with "helping us through their big radiotelescope at Jodrell Bank."

Fulton said a signal did not have to be sent out from the United States for the equipment to "see" an event somewhere else, graphs its presence or occurrence directly to the moon and then back to earth.

Reds Launch 2 Dogs Safely 281 Miles Up

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said tonight two dogs have been landed safely from a space rocket that reached an altitude of 281 miles.

The broadcast said the dogs were aboard a one-stage geophysical rocket launched in the Soviet Union Aug. 27.

"Having reached this estimated height the rocket has landed in a precisely allocated sector," the radio said.

The rocket flight was part of experiments in the program for the International Geophysical Year. Apparatus for the study of the upper layers of atmosphere was installed in the rocket.

The dogs were enclosed in a special hermetically sealed cabin.

Total weight of the dogs plus the equipment carried by the rocket was 3,725 pounds, Moscow reported.

Moscow said that during flight the apparatus worked normally and insured the supply of essential scientific data which is now under study.

The U. S. Air Force announced July 24 that Wickie, a mouse launched in a Thor-Able missile apparently was lost at sea after surviving a 6,000-mile journey through space.

The mouse was the third to be fired through space by the Air Force.

18,000 Men in Strikes Idle Auto Industry

General Motors, UAW Swap Sharp Words About Wildcatting

DETROIT (AP)—Wildcat strikes idled more than 18,000 workers in the auto industry today amid a sharp exchange of words between spokesmen for General Motors and the United Auto Workers.

The walkouts brought a charge from GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton that the UAW was using "hit-run guerilla warfare" in its efforts to get a new contract for its members.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock accused GM of fomenting the strikes by the actions of management in various locations. Workers struck at five GM plants Thursday. The walkouts occurred at Hamilton and Elyria, Ohio, at two plants in Grand Rapids, Mich., and at the Buick dynamo plant at Flint. The Elyria strike lasted only a few hours, with workers voting to return to their jobs today.

The walkouts forced the shutdown of a Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant in Kansas City, Kan., because of shortage of material brought on by the other work stoppages.

The wave of strikes included plants of Ford and Chrysler. Ford was hit by shutdowns of three plants at Cleveland, and Chrysler had unresolved walkouts at the Dodge truck, Detroit Forge and Newark, Dela., assembly plants.

Seaton, who serves as head of the GM bargaining team, warned the UAW that the strikes threatened the start of 1959 model production. He charged that the UAW hoped to pressure GM into acceding to "inflationary demands," but said the walkouts would serve only to delay a sound settlement.

Contracts between the industry and the UAW expired three months ago, but workers have remained on the job. Most walkouts centered around the issue of how much time committeemen may spend off the job handling grievances.

Woodcock, the UAW's chief bargaining officer at the GM negotiations, accused the company of cutting the grievance handling time in half. He also charged that the company:

- Forced skilled trades journeymen to sweep floors.
- Made employees work with raincoats in three inches of water at one plant.
- Forbade employees to talk to each other or to take a drink of water.

No progress was reported in negotiations between the UAW and the three companies, and the contract talks were recessed until Tuesday.

Woodcock said the UAW will announce next week a date for a special executive board session, where it will be decided which of the Big Three will be the target for an all-out strike and when.

U.S. Tax Slapped On Ohio State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Fair's financial woes grew today when it was asked to fork over $10,000 in 1958 federal amusement taxes. A government claim for "back taxes" could bring the total tax bite to about $50,000.

Fair Manager D. Robert Jones said today he will fight the government's action.

He said that this year, for the first time, the Internal Revenue Service has levied a federal amusement-tax on the horse show and the grandstand and coliseum shows. Internal Revenue men also filed to collect amusement taxes on previous shows, including the Ernie Ford show in 1957 and the Roy Rogers show in 1956. Jones said, despite the fact they granted exemptions at the time.

Ohio Group Wins History Award

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Historical Society and the Ohio School of the Air have been given the American Assn. for State and Local History award for their jointly produced radio program, "Once Upon a Time," Erwin C. Zepp, society director, announced today.

The program, now in its 14th year, is broadcast weekly to schools, presenting a historical series about Ohio to pupils in grades three through eight.

DETENTION SUITS FILED

Two civil actions, claiming wrongful detention of farm property in Jasper Township, have been filed in Common Pleas Court against Forrest and Evelyn Reser who have been farming land owned by the late Owen L. Brown.

Plaintiffs in the two cases are Russell and Bernice Griesheimer, Chillicothe, and Ray Maddox, Washington C. H., executor of the Brown estate.

The Griesheimers claim ownership of a life estate in the property (which extends into Clinton County) under terms of the decedent's will and claim that the Resers have unlawfully kept them out of possession. They ask that the court order the defendants to vacate the premises and that the defendants make an accounting of rents and profits since July 28, 1955.

Maddox, as executor, asks recovery of personal property owned by the decedent, and damages in the sum of $10,000 plus costs for their detention.

An earlier action filed by Maddox asking an accounting has been dismissed at the plaintiff's request.

ASKS DOGBITE DAMAGES

Nellie Wentz, 310 McElwain St., has brought suit in Common Pleas Court asking $2,161.05 in damages as the result of injuries which she says were received when a dog bit her at the Houseman service station in Bloomingburg Aug. 29, 1956.

Named defendants in the action are Millard Houseman Sr., Helen Irene Houseman and Millard Houseman Jr.

The plaintiff claims that the senior Houseman as the owner of a vicious dog which bit her above the heel at the service station, causing her to fall on the pavement. She alleges the defendants permitted the dog to run at large and she was not warned that it was vicious. Damages are asked to compensate for medical expenses and loss of time from work.

Ohio Military Units To Get New Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill appropriating $1,354,000,000 for military construction at continental and foreign posts in the fiscal year started July 1, 1958.

The amount is $376,653,000 less than was asked by the administration. Of the total, the Army will get 230 million dollars, the Navy 295 million and the Air Force 785 million.

The remainder is divided among classified programs and for expenditures at unspecified National Guard and reserve facilities.

The bill carries an appropriation of $1,713,000 for the Army's Erie ordnance depot; $11,589,000 for the Clinton County, Ohio, AFB; $11,950,000 for Lockbourne AFB, Columbus, and $11,440,000 for Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton. Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton.

New Social Bill Gets OK

Ike Signs Measure Boosting Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill increasing Social Security benefits and taxes.

The new law will provide bigger checks starting next February for 12 million retired workers and survivors. The increase will be 7 per cent with a minimum of $3 a month.

It also will raise taxes for old age insurance on some 75 million workers and their employers.

The payroll tax goes up Jan. 1 from 2 1/4 per cent for both worker and employer on the first $4,200 of annual income, to 2 1/2 per cent on $4,800.

Eisenhower expressed concern over a provision which increases the proportion of public assistance programs which are financed by the federal government. He said he is asking Secretary of Welfare Flemming to deal with this problem in a review of such programs now under way.

Eisenhower said the increases in the federal government share of the costs of such programs as aid to the needy aged "can lead only to a weakening of the responsibility of the states and communities."

"I believe deeply," he said, "in the concept that the state and communities can best determine the actual needs of individuals and best administer programs of assistance to them—and that the state and local financial responsibility in these programs should be strengthened, not weakened."

This is the fourth time since 1950 that social security benefits have been boosted by election-year Congresses.

The new formula on retirement benefits will hike checks from the present range of $30-$108.50 a month to $33-$116, effective with checks going out next Feb. 3. After some years the maximum will go to $127 a month.

For families with a number of dependents, the maximum benefit will rise from $200 to $254 a month.

The tax increase actually will bring in more than is needed to finance the higher benefits. The surplus, however, will go to reduce the current deficit in the social security trust fund, and will bring the fund's income and outgo into balance by 1965.

Workers earning the maximum of $4,800 a year will pay $120 a year in social security taxes as compared with $94.50 at present.

Self-employed workers electing social security coverage will have their tax raised from 3 1/2 per cent to 3 3/4 per cent.

Under a speed-up schedule further increases in the tax rate are scheduled for Jan. 1, 1960, and every three years thereafter until 1969, when workers and employers will be paying 4 1/2 per cent each.

During the same period the tax on the self-employed will rise to 6 1/4 per cent.

The new law also liberalizes many provisions affecting disabled workers and their dependents, dependent children and widows of insured workers.

Tway Properties Brings $37,800 At Public Auction

Three city properties which were a part of the estate of the late Lizzie Tway brought a total of $37,800 at public auction at the Court-house Thursday afternoon.

The appraised value of the three tracts, sold to settle the estate of Lizzie Tway, was $28,800. David Whiteside is the administrator.

A property at Market and North Sts., appraised at $15,000, was sold to Vera V. Veal for $16,700. Property at 315 - 315 E. Court St., appraised at $10,000, went to Leo Cox for $14,600. The third parcel, 131 W. Elm St., appraised at $3,800, was sold to Edwin Nestor for $6,500.

Mother Given Bitter Choice By Doctors

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Doctors gave Mrs. Patrick Queeney this choice:

Either permit the amputation of your 13-year-old daughter's legs or see her spend the rest of her life in a wheel chair.

But there are things a mother cannot decide.

"How can you make a decision like that?" Mrs. Queeney asked.

"If I make the wrong decision, she is the one who will suffer for the rest of her life."

So Mrs. Queeney and her husband put it up to the child, Karleen.

The little girl knew what she wanted. She had been present when doctors at the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in Philadelphia first mentioned the possibility that her legs could be amputated and replaced with artificial ones.

Karleen has been in plaster casts and braces since she was 5 1/2 months old, when a spinal abnormality left her paralyzed from the knees down.

Two operations and one treatment after another have failed to improve her condition. And three years ago she even had to take the braces off because they caused pressure sores on her feet which at still not completely healed.

"What do you want to do?" she was asked Thursday.

There was no hesitation in Karleen's answer: "I want to dance."

Given State Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Herbert B. Eagon, director of the Department of Natural Resources, announced today the appointment of Robert W. Copelan, Cincinnati newspaperman, as chief of the Department's Information and Education Section.

Copelan, 63, was managing editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star at the time the newspaper was sold last month to the Cincinnati Post. He had been a member of the Time-Star staff since 1924.

City Teachers Get Together

Ten New Members Of Staff Welcomed

The ten new teachers in the Washington C. H. schools were given an opportunity to get acquainted with other members of the staff when they all gathered in Fellowship Hall of Grace Methodist Church Thursday evening for a covered dish supper.

The dinner, an annual affair, was arranged by the City Teachers Assn., with Miss Marjorie Evans, the president, the general chairman.

The ten new teachers, who were guests of honor along with members of the board of education and 20 accredited substitute teachers, were John B. Hardin, high school principal; Henry Best, Rose Avenue principal and sixth grade teacher; Robert Angus, Sunnyside principal and sixth grade teacher; Robert Wientjes, Cherry Hill principal and sixth grade teacher; Samuel Coburn, high school biology teacher; Gene Millard, high school history teacher and head basketball coach; William Siemer, industrial arts; Mrs. Fred Domenico, half-time sixth grade teacher at Eastside; Miss Beverly Baughn, second grade at Eastside; Mrs. Purle Hays, Rose Avenue first grade; and Mrs. Dewey Sheidler, Sunnyside third grade.

ALL OF THE teachers were accompanied by their wives or husbands.

Following the supper which was served buffet style, Miss Evans welcomed the guests on behalf of the City Teachers Assn. and Superintendent W. A. Smith extended a similar welcome by the school administration. Both spoke only briefly.

Grover Baber, high school vocal music teacher, sang two solos and Mrs. George Penzell group singing following in the supper. Mrs. L. F. Everhart played the accompaniment.

An atmosphere of informality was achieved early in the evening when each person introduced the one to his right.

Mrs. W. A. Smith was chairman of the committee on arrangements. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Grace Iden, Miss Jane Durant, Mrs. Mary Gillespie, Mrs. Louella Campbell, Fred Domenico, Mrs. Nada Douce, Stanley Johnson, Mrs. Bernice Johnson and Miss Marian Christopher.

Atlas Missile Rips Off on Fine Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The prestige of the United States in the intercontinental ballistic missile field has been given a big boost by the latest successful launching of a mighty Atlas.

The 100-ton ICBM, the nation's most potent war weapon, blasted 3,000 miles through space after a beautiful liftoff Thursday night and hit right on target.

The second straight success with a fully powered Atlas was a major stride toward the Air Force's goal of developing an operational ICBM within the next two years.

The 85-foot "Big A" rose aloft atop a huge ball of white flame with a tremendous roar. Because the night was clear, the missile's flaming exhaust was seen in the sky for more than four minutes.

The real maple syrup flavor is not present in the tree sap but is developed during the processing of the sap.

Fayette County Sales Receipts Still Lagging

Four of seven South Central Ohio counties reported increases in sales tax receipts for the week ending Aug. 16, but Fayette County was not among them.

Fayette collections for the week were $9,081 as compared with $10,688 for the corresponding week last year. This brought Fayette County collections since July 1 to $45,066 as compared with $53,421 for the same period last year.

Clinton, Highland, Pickaway and Ross counties showed increases for the week, although all of the district counties are running behind last year in cumulative collections.

OHIOWIDE, returns for the week of Aug. 16 were 6.9 per cent under last year, and cumulative collections 12.1 per cent below the comparable period last year.

Fayette County's neighbors reported the following collections for the week and for the fiscal year to date (figures in parentheses are last year's totals):

Clinton $9,956 ($7,610), $52,914 ($65,274); Greene $16,223 ($22,470), $112,031 ($135,790); Highland $7,972 ($6,401), $44,040 ($44,512); Madison $5,371 ($8,405), $38,236 ($55,644); Pickaway $6,497 ($6,259), $39,212 ($41,214); Ross $14,855 ($8,394), $91,542 ($91,884).

SETS INSURANCE RECORD

Robert L. Van Dyke, 115 N. Hinde St., representative for Business Men's Assurance Co., has attained the coveted goal of the million dollar circle in the short space of three months with the company.

The last week in May he attended the BMA Tri-State School and conference at French Lick, Ind., and since that time has produced over a million dollars in paid life insurance. This has never been attained by any other Ohio representative in so short a time, in the history of the company, officials said.

Prior to joining BMA Van Dyke was with the Navy for 10 years.

Jock Whitney Now Controls Herald-Trib

NEW YORK (AP)—John Hay Whitney, U.S. ambassador to Britain and a New York City financier has acquired control of the New York Herald Tribune from the Reid family.

Ogden R. Reid, president and editor of the newspaper, announced Thursday that Whitney had acquired it and its European edition published in Paris.

The Herald Tribune and Whitney announced last September that he had invested an undisclosed sum in the newspaper.

Thursday's announcement by Reid said in part: The Reid family will retain a substantial interest in the Herald Tribune. At Whitney's request, Reid will continue as editor and chief executive officer until Whitney has had an opportunity to determine future management.

A statement by Whitney, released here, said in part that he proposes to preserve the newspaper's character "and to build upon its great traditions as an independent Republican newspaper."

Whitney said he intends to continue as ambassador "so long as the President desires."

Stock Prices Uneven on Eve Of Holiday

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market milled unevenly in sluggish pre-Labor Day trading this afternoon.

Key stocks showed very narrow changes for the most part and many were unchanged. Moves of a point or so were rare.

Turnover was the slowest this week on the eve of the long weekend which is always regarded as a milepost for business and the market.

Leading rails, generally drifted downward. Drugs and rubbers were slightly higher. Steels, motors, oils, chemicals and aircrafts were mixed.

Uncertainty about what the weekend might bring in developments near Formosa and further evidence of credit tightening by the federal reserve system were dampening factors.

Curtis Publishing rose fractionally as the market continued to eye approvingly the new policy of the Saturday Evening Post in accepting liquor ads.

Inland Steel fell more than a point. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were about unchanged.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) eased. Fractional losses were taken by Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio and New York Central. Baltimore & Ohio jogged to the upside.

U.S. government bonds were down slightly.

GETTING READY FOR SCHOOL—Workmen have laid the curb on High St. in front of the new Belle Aire School and are now putting in the concrete walk from the street to the school's front door. The sidewalk along the street in front of the school will not be laid until next week after school opens. Some grading and seeding remains to be completed on the ground. The new eight-room elementary school, which will open for the first time next Tuesday, was erected this summer as a part of the city's $645,000 school building program which includes a new 15-room Eastside School at Elm and Willard Sts., and two-room additions to the Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill Schools. All will be ready for the pupils Tuesday, although some finishing touches remain to be put on the interiors.

Antioch To Fete 'Boss' Kettering

YELLOW SPRINGS — Antioch College, rarely known for its red carpet treatment of the great or near great, is pulling out all the stops this weekend to honor a man whose face and figure are among the most familiar on campus.

The man is Charles F. Kettering, chairman of Antioch's board of trustees, and the occasion is the celebration of his 82nd birthday. "Boss Ket" actually celebrates his birthday today, but the Antioch salute is scheduled tomorrow in the form of a dinner in his honor given by the college for its trusttees, trustees of the Winters Bank and Kettering Foundation, and the family and close friends of one of the world's most noted inventors. Hosts will be President and Mrs. Samuel B. Gould.

The college's gift to its esteemed board chairman will be an open-air concert at the Antioch School, the fifth and last in a Music under-the-Stars series on campus.

Soviet 1-Stage Rocket Zooms High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet magazine USSR says the Soviet Union has achieved an altitude record of 294 miles for single-stage rockets.

The current issues of the monthly magazine also claims that a new type of rocket launched in May 1957 carried a payload of 4,850 pounds to an altitude of 132 miles.

"Both instruments and experimental dogs were brought back safely to earth from that height," it said.

U.S. scientists were reluctant to comment on the magazine's claims.

Car Accessory Theft on Increase

The police here and in many surrounding towns and cities are hearing reports almost daily from car owners about stolen hubcaps. They place the blame on gangs of teenagers.

Hubcap thefts are an easy way for some of these youths to raise a little money. When cars are left standing in the streets all night, the taking of these disks is not a difficult matter and probably not one car owner in a thousand could identify his own hubcaps. Furthermore these have a relatively stable value on the market which thieves use.

The police in most cities are finding that stealing small items from automobiles has become a rather lucrative business among numerous youngsters.

Pilfering unlocked cars, emptying glove compartments, seizing dashboard or instrument panel accessories, or taking packages which some owners carelessly leave in cars, prove to be profitable small thefts. Police here estimate that such losses run as much as several hundreds of dollars a year in Washington C. H. alone. Some cities report these losses run as high as $10,000 to $20,000 annually.

One local police officer raised a question as to whether this was being done by local thieves. He was inclined to the belief that there are traveling gangs of youths, going from town to town, which could account for a lot of these losses.

It is extremely difficult to trace these delinquents. Also it is hard to return stolen items once they are recovered, except in certain items or car parts which are easily identifiable.

In Pennsylvania the state police are supporting a legislative bill that might reduce the heavy toll in stolen hubcaps. They suggest engraving license plate numbers on wheel covers. In some places motorists are urged to have this done voluntarily.

Petty automotive thievery can be cut down to a great extent if motor car owners, in many cases, would use better judgement in protecting their cars and their accessories. Thieves are cautious about stealing parts which are easily identifiable or where breaking and entering is necessary.

Cooper Still Tall in Saddle

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Cooper still rides tall in the saddle of time.

After 30 years of stardom, the veteran actor still seems as ageless as the sagebrush he has ridden through so often in making more than 100 major films.

What is the secret of his durability? Cooper said it was very simple. He just had to learn when to stop saying "giddyup" and start saying "whoa!"

Two bouts of illness, he said, taught him this lesson. One came in 1931, when a siege of jaundice, after years of overwork, almost ended his career. The other was an ulcer attack in 1949. The two experiences taught him the value of relaxing.

In 1931, a doctor warned him he had to quit for a while if he wanted to stay alive. Gary had been working on pictures night and day, and his weight had dropped from 180 to 147.

"I dropped everything, broke my contract, went to Africa and did nothing but loaf and hunt for six months," he recalled. "It was one of the happiest times of my life."

Here's his two-point program for mental and physical health: "Try to keep from making boneheads. Then you won't have so much to worry about."

"You owe it to yourself — and everybody around you — to keep in the best possible shape."

Today Cooper is one of the most relaxed men in the motion picture industry, or at least he gives that impression.

He sees acting as a satisfying career in itself, and has no deep urge to become an active director-producer, although he picks his own roles.

"Actors are happier now than when everybody in the movie business was riding a great big gray boat," he observed.

"You know, one studio in its offices here had an executive dining room that cost it $8,000 a month. That kind of thing is all over now."

"But actors are happier than in the old days because they have more independence. They don't have to do everything everybody tells them. They have more of a choice in their lives."

"But the movies are really a wonderful business. In politics a man often has to step on other people. To get elected he may have to make so many promises that when he finally does get into office he can't move."

"I am very proud of the movie business, and I respect it. You don't have to double-cross anybody to get ahead in it, you don't have to attack people, or put the squeeze on them."

"You do have to stand up and fight for your own ideas, but isn't that good for anybody?"

By Hal Boyle

The Price of Politics

The major problem that faces the so-called democracies is whether they can survive as representative governments under the terrific pressures of totalitarian forces let loose by the revolutions that accompanied World War I and World War II.

We have already witnessed the disappearance of nearly all the free governments created by the treaties following these wars. We have already witnessed a revolution in France which may end the Fourth Republic and which has established some kind of dictatorship under Gen. De Gaulle, who is laboring to prevent this from occurring.

China, which under the Kuomintang, from Sun Yat-sen to Chiang Kai-shek, attempted to establish some form of constitutional government, finally failed and the communist took over all but Formosa.

The test will, of course, come in Great Britain and the United States where representative government, based upon capitalistic economics, achieved its highest form. Great Britain, that economically cannot be self-sustaining, was erected upon a system of colonies and dependent states, which the home government defended by a navy that kept the sea-lanes open for all nations.

From Elizabeth I to George V, the navy was Britain's strength. That is lost. What is left is prestige and wit, two not valueless imperishables.

But can Great Britain survive its trend toward suicide so expressively represented in Parliament by the Labourite leader, Hugh Gaitskill, and by the newspaper, the "Manchester Guardian"?

This British trend toward suicide is an amazing phenomenon because obviously the British have only wisdom and know-how to offer the world; their manufactures are unnecessary for any country because most of the markets of the world will ultimately be supplied by those nations which possess within their boundaries the raw materials from which durable or consumer goods are made.

Such countries as Great Britain and Japan in a quarter of a century will not be able to compete with the United States, the Soviet group, Red China or with a Latin American group centered in Brazil because the import of raw materials is becoming increasingly costly and nations will not go to war for trade as they do not go to war for dynasties.

The United States possessed power in 1945 with Great Britain, France and Nationalist China as partners. It frittered the opportunity away in an orgy of idealism centered on the United Nations.

By 1948, it was altogether clear that Soviet Russia had taken full advantage of American sentimentalism and had gone off on an imperialistic spree which showed its full force in the Korean War (1950-1953) and the Vietnam War (1946-1954).

As long as the United States believed that it enjoyed the monopoly of the atom bomb; it believed that time was working in its favor. By unbelievable flukes and carelessness, it permitted the atom bomb developments to be stolen by Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the Rosenbergs, Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo and others.

The United States did not actually lose the bomb, the scientific data concerning which would have become known anyhow in due course. What the United States lost was the overwhelming advantage of time.

Recognizing this one principal factor in this situation, Soviet Russia starved its people, robbed its satellites, brought the world close of war, but it closed the time gap in scientific development.

In fact, in some respects, Soviet Russia's rush for time resulted in achievement swifter than those achieved in the United States. Sputnik was an example.

The delays in the United States are generally attributed to faulty education — not enough engineers, mathematicians, etc. The explanation is too simple. In the disclosure of the difficulties of Gen. James Gavin and Adm. Hyman Rickover, we witness another dif-

Hints on Handling Bleeding Emergency

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IT IS extremely difficult to explain how to halt severe bleeding without demonstrating the process in person, by photographs or by sketches.

Unfortunately, none of these methods is available to me in my discussions with you via this newspaper column. Yet I feel duty bound to try to explain as well as I can under this handicap how you can control serious bleeding. You never know when you might be confronted by an emergency, and even a little knowledge may save a life.

Could Be Fatal

Bleeding can be very dangerous. If more than a quart of blood is lost, it might be fatal.

First thing to do is to remove enough clothing so you can see the entire injury. Next, try stopping the flow of blood by direct pressure on the wound. Use a thick pad of sterile gauze if you have one available.

If you don't, use a clean, ironed handkerchief, freshly opened. Place it over the entire wound and press firmly. Sometimes this pressure is enough to permit a clot to form and the bleeding will stop.

Apply Pressure

If the bleeding persists, you might try applying pressure to certain places where the artery crosses a bone or lies close to one.

For bleeding in the region of the temple or forehead, apply pressure just in front of the ear against the skull.

If the bleeding is from face wounds, apply pressure along the edge of the lower jaw about an inch forward from the angle of the jaw and in front of the ear.

For a throat wound, place the ends of your fingers in the hollow beside the windpipe and the thumbs on the back of the neck. Then squeeze and press inward against the backbone.

Behind Collarbone

When the blood is coming from the shoulder, armpit or entire arm, pressure should be applied in the hollow behind the collarbone against the top rib.

For bleeding of the lower arm, grasp the arm one hand width below the armpit and press the artery against the arm bone with the fingers.

When blood is spurting from the leg, thigh or foot, apply pressure in the middle of the groin with the heel of the hand against the pelvic bone.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. B.: Can you tell me what is the best treatment for a peptic ulcer?

Answer: Most doctors feel that one of the best treatments is a nutritious and well-balanced bland diet. Antacids are also of great value.

Since serious complications can result, a physician should be consulted as soon as symptoms of peptic ulcer appear.

Cafe Problem: Washing and Breaking Dishes

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — If you take your wife out to dinner you can get out of helping with the dishes — unless you forget your billfold.

But the dishwashing and dish-breaking problem is still there. It's one of today's big headaches for those in the restaurant and hotel business.

They report replacing as much as 85 per cent of their cups and 47 per cent of their saucers annually. The toll varies widely. Some eateries say they replace less than 15 per cent of all their tableware stocks annually. A few report replacing up to 150 per cent.

This can eat into profits almost as fast as Junior can into a hamburger.

Those who cater to the public's hunger have tried many ways of cutting this cost. Some of the larger ones report that dishwashing machines have cut their breakage costs by one-fourth to one-half. A few say they can see little difference in this respect between the mechanical and the human washer.

Some have turned to plastic tableware and report spending considerably less of their annual gross dollar volume now for replacements. A few have turned to metal tableware and find breakage a small item with chief worries dents, scratches or polishing.

To look into trends in the commercial feeding field, a trade publication, restaurant equipment dealer, has tabulated replies from some 300 restaurants and hotels queried about their problems.

The majority say that breakage cost is a major item in their budget but that quality and style and customer preference still is high on their list of considerations when choosing tableware.

The higher priced the menu the fancier the customers expect the place settings to be.

Some managements comment they expect to pay more for good china that goes with their decor than for the standard grades and one says, "we buy the best — it lasts longer."

Now someone should survey the housewife on her tableware replacement problems and on the breakage ratio between male and female dishwashers in the home.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Some of my melon - growing friends in the community state that contrary to popular belief, this has not been a good year for watermelons. They have laid very few melons from their patches to date.

One grower said heavy rains during the blooming season prevented the fruit from "setting on" the vines.

Another informed me that the melons he has do not seem to ripen as a result of adverse weather conditions.

Years ago watermelon patches were numerous in the county, but there are few of them any more. As a result most of the melons in local markets are shipped in.

HE RODE HIGH BIKE

I recall having seen, as a small boy, the only high - bicycle rider I knew of in Paint Township, although there might have been others.

He was Perry Ladd, farm worker, and I believe he was employed by Robert S. Parker and the latter's son, William, on what is now the W. C. Vernon farm, Route 38, two miles north of Bloomingburg.

I can still see Perry riding that high bike, and I recall he was wearing a rather long - tailed coat, tight trousers and a black derby hat.

He was very proud of that bicycle, and really covered much ground with it, although I remember he mentioned the rough gravel roadways and the danger of taking a "header" when the little wheel back of the high wheel struck an obstruction.

OLD BOOTMAKERS

Instead of people going to stores and buying their footwear when Fayette County was still young, they usually went to a bootmaker who measured their feet and produced the boots to order with the few tools necessary in the work.

In some instances, however, traveling bootmakers simply went from house to house, measuring feet and making boots and shoes. They lived with the families, or in warm weather, slept in barns or other buildings.

This practice was followed for years, and many local residents recall hearing their ancestors relating how the itinerant bootmakers came to their homes and remained until all of the family was shod for the winter.

It was a custom followed generally for children, and many grown-ups, to go barefooted much of the time in warm weather. This was not only to save the cost of shoes, but because it was regarded as healthful to do so.

Many of the hardy pioneer men and women were barefooted most of the time, unless working where heavy boots were necessary to protect their feet.

In those days "stone bruises" were common for barefooters, and these bruises, which usually became inflamed and very painful, caused a great deal of suffering.

I used to have them when I was a youngster, and I know just how very painful they were.

TURKEY RIDGE PEACHES

This was a good year for peaches, and Walter Thompson, who owns Turkey Ridge Fruit farm, about three miles southeast of South Salem, has just about completed marketing his crop which included choice Hale Haven peaches, some of which weighed up to one pound.

Walter's orchard was in the path of the 17-year - locust infestation last year, and as a result all of his trees suffered damage at the hands of the insects.

The traditional way to say "with sympathy" is to say it with flowers. Through the centuries men have turned to this blessed way of expressing their tenderest thoughts to friends and dear ones.
Those left behind will never forget the beautiful memory picture your thoughtfulness helps to create. And in years to come, you gain rich satisfaction in having contributed to the silent sermon on everlasting life that flowers add to this sacred occasion.

Hard-Luck Plagued Ohio Fair May Break Even Financially

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Fair, heralded as the biggest and best in the 104-year history of the event, ends today and some officials still feel the hard-luck plagued exposition will break even financially.

Agriculture Director James R. Hay, acknowledging lower gate receipts than last year for the first six days of the eight-day fair, commented:

"... I'd say that given any kind of a break Friday, we'd be solvent. But we won't know for sure until next week."

Hay's tabulations through Wednesday show 243,465 paid admissions, down only 26,120 from last year at that time despite rains which drastically cut attendance on the usually big Sunday.

The 1957 fair, while grossing $898,984, netted only $327. He added, however, this year's expenses might be pared to keep the exposition balanced.

The big show has been plagued with problems — Sunday's rain, unusually cool evenings, and the California automobile accident which caused one of the top grandstand show personalities — singer Dean Martin — to miss the event.

On the fairgrounds for Governor's Day Thursday, Gov. C. William O'Neill had nothing but praise for the exposition.

"The fair is tremendous. It's a great livestock show, probably the greatest anywhere," he said.

"The horse show has been splendid this year with very good attendance. I know; I've been there three nights myself."

In livestock competition, Ecraso Don Tweenie, owned by E.C. Rausch & Sons of Plain City, won the $2,000 National Holstein Futurity.

Big Bear Stores of Columbus, a grocery chain, paid $30 a hundredweight for a 20-head grand champion lot of commercial cattle owned by Raymond Wecht of Dalton. Big Bear also bought the reserve champion lot of R.P. Redick of Lima for the same price.

Realtors Little League Champs

Flashes Edged In Final Game Of Season Here

The Mac Dews Realtors are the 1958 Little League champions.

They won the title Thursday night at Wilson Field by clipping the Record-Herald Flashes, the first round champions, 3 to 2, in one of the most rousing finishes of the League.

This is the second year in a row that the Realtors have copped the crown, in the first two years of the League, the Flashes won the title both times.

Both teams deserve a lot of credit. They have been playing since last Saturday evening in order to decide the champion. The Flashes have played every night for the past week.

Managed by Eddie Mitchell, the Realtors banged out four hits last night and took advantage of five misuses by the Flashes to tally their three runs. The Realtors made one error.

THE FLASHES got seven safeties off the winning hurler, Gary Mickle. Mickle issued five walks. Bill Naylor, who was charged with the defeat, gave up one base on balls.

Mickle helped his own cause by clouting three hits in three trips to the plate. Donnie Wilson, the third baseman, collected the other Realtor hit.

Dave Matson was the big gun at the plate for the Flashes, who are managed by John Breiner. The first baseman rapped two hits in three times. Chuck Snyder got two for four for the Flashes. Terry Armbrust, Tim Cummings and Naylor picked up the other hits for the Flashes.

The Little League season is all over and most of the players will now begin to concentrate on Pony League football.

California Demands Defense by Robinson

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California will put pressure on the National Boxing Assn. to make Sugar Ray Robinson either defend his world middleweight crown or give it up.

The plan is to get a top contender through an elimination tournament, then give a "fight or quit" ultimatum to Robinson.

Harry W. Falk Jr., a vice president of the NBA and a member of the State Athletic Commission, said he'd make the proposal at the NBA's Sept. 7 meeting in Las Vegas, Nev.

Ezzard Charles Wins Bout in New Comeback

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles won a 10-round decision over back-pedaling Johnny Harper of Steubenville, Ohio, before an estimated 3,100 boxing fans Thursday night.

Charles weighed 198, the 23-year-old Harper 203. The bout launched a second comeback effort for Charles, who lists his age at 37 and who was heavyweight champion in 1949-51.

Elliott's Sprint Raises Eyebrows

GOETSBORG, Sweden (AP) — How fast can Herb Elliott run?

That was the question track experts asked today after a world-record-smashing 3:36 for 1500 meters by the lanky, 20-year-old Australian.

Many even refused to venture a guess as he preceded his almost incredible 1500 with a 3:54.5 mile at Dublin Aug. 6. The mile is 1,760 yards. The 1500 meter is 1,640 yards, 1 foot, 4 inches.

Braves Scheduled To Meet Pittsburgh. Now Playing to Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Braves Manager Fred Haney, who couldn't get the Pirates out of last place three years as Pittsburgh pilot, faces them tonight as a second place team determined to win better things — at the expense of the Braves.

The Pirates have refused to be shaken off by the National League leading Braves in the title chase and trail the defending champions by 7½ games. Their position represents a climb from a tie for seventh and last place in 1957.

The Pittsburgh surge has been directed by Danny Murtaugh. He declined to make any predictions for the three-game series opening tonight, saying "we'll play them one at a time, but the future is always bright."

The next 10 days could be thrillers or chillers for the no-longer bungling Reds. At the moment they're in second place, 7½ games behind the Braves. They stand 7-8 against the Braves with seven games remaining in the season series.

All seven are scheduled for the next 10 days — three at Milwaukee this weekend, four at Pittsburgh next weekend.

Milwaukee wrapped up a 4-1 series at San Francisco Thursday by smacking the third-place Giants 3-0 behind Bob Rush's 10-hit pitching in the only game scheduled in either league.

Rush (7-12), walked but one and struck out seven while giving up eight singles plus a triple and double to Orlando Cepeda.

The Braves had only six hits — four of 'em by Red Schoendienst, who doubled home the second run — off loser Johnny Antonelli 14-11. Del Crandall's walk and stolen base, triggering errors by catcher Bob Schmidt and center fielder Willie Mays, gave the Braves the run they needed to push the Giants nine games back in the fifth inning.

The Pirates sent right-hander Bob Friend against southpaw Warren Spahn, the NL's top winners with 17, tonight.

The New York Yankees should finally get around to making Washington the first victim of the inevitable in the American League pennant "race" this weekend. The champs' magic number for officially eliminating the last-place Senators is three. Any combination of Yankee victories and/or Washington defeats totaling three does the job.

The Yankees open a three-game set at Washington tonight.

But if the Senators are doomed to be the first to go, they won't be alone very long. The number is 17 for the Yanks' pennant clinching over the second-place Chicago White Sox.

The magic numbers that officially eliminate the rest of the league go like this: Boston, 16; Baltimore, 13; Detroit, 12; Cleveland and Kansas City, 9.

By comparison, Milwaukee's pennant number in the National League is 21 after rapping third-place San Francisco 3-0 in the only game scheduled in either league Thursday.

All that looms ahead for the Yankees, who have been in first place since April 18, the fifth day of the season, is a job of getting for the World Series. Which is an their pitching back on the beam incredible thing, as Casey Stengel would say, when you figure his guys are 11½ games out front.

Fact is, the Yankees have a staff that has produced 48 complete games this season (second only to Milwaukee's 57 in the majors), yet they've managed but 4 in 20 games over the past three weeks.

Blue Lion Passes Click In Cincinnati Workout

Several long Lion passes clicked and Anderson High School's passing was almost stopped cold in a scrimmage—between teams representing the two schools Thursday afternoon on Mt. Washington, Cincinnati suburb.

Coach Fred Domenico said the Anderson squad gave the Lion pass defense a good test, throwing 25 passes during the one-hour scrimmage. Only six passes got through the Washington secondary, but Domenico still isn't satisfied.

The two teams had possession of the ball in alternate 10-minute periods. The coaches acted as officials and stopped play frequently to correct mistakes their teams made.

The Lions scored each of the three times they had the ball. The long pass plays that clicked were a 60-yard throw from Quarterback

Chuck Hire to Jack Wilson. A play good for 30 yards was a pass from Buddy Lynch to Gil Crouse.

DOMENICO SAID the Lion offensive line charged well and did an effective job of carrying out their blocking assignments. Commenting on other features of his team's play he said the downfield blocking showed improvement, and the defense showed improvement.

"Gang tackling", a feature the coaching staff has been trying to install, has started to show effects, he said.

The Lions will practice twice Friday, and they have a scrimmage scheduled Saturday afternoon. It is now one week until the opening preview featuring Greenfield, Hillsboro, Wilmington and the Lions at Gardner Park Field.

La Belle Wins Governors Cup; Fayette Colt Takes Stake Race

While the spotlight was on the $18,025 Governor's Cup Stake for 3-year-old trotters on the final day of harness horse racing at the Ohio State Fair Thursday, the $2,000 stake for 2-year-old pacers claimed the interest of Fayette Countians in the crowd.

The reason: it was won by Great Pleasure, bred, born and trained in Fayette County. The youngster's mother is McKinley Kirk's good race mare, Pleasant Surprise.

Great Pleasure, owned by Kirk of Washington C. H. and Bob and Harry Valley of Waverly, took both dashes of the stake with Bill Altzer in the sulky. Both miles were paced in 2:08.4.

Kirk, in Du Quoin, Ill., with another division of the stable, did not see the race.

LA BELLE was outstanding in the race for the Governor's Cup. The filly won the second elimination mile in 2:07.3 and came back to take the final showdown in 2:04.4. Dick Buxton, her driver, said her performance left him "speechless."

Her victory was no surprise. She won the Ohio State Trot last year as a 2-year-old and she turned in 13th and 14th straight wins Thursday. She has won 15 of her 18 starts this year.

Gov. C. William O'Neill, who was late in arriving and missed the two qualifying miles, presented the Governor's Cup to O. L. Mears of Toledo, owner of La Belle. Mears drew a laugh when he said: "I'm from Mike DiSalle's part of the state and I tried for years to win this stake when Lausche was governor. I had to wait until a Republican was in office before I finally made it." Di Salle, a Democrat, is Gov. O'Neill's opponent for the governorship in the November election.

Homers Feature Softball Games

Season To Close At Park Tonight

Home runs featured the Men's Softball League twin bill at Community Park Thursday night.

Ohio Bell boys clouted four round trippers as they whitewashed the Thornton outfit, 9 to 0, and Washington C. H. made use of two four baggers in their 14 to 1 swamp-in of Med-O-Pure.

Horney was the big man for Ohio Bell. He smashed four hits, including three home runs. Grim rapped the other home for the telephone men.

Howell and N. Kimball collected the homers for Washington C. H. Med-O-Pure was allowed only one hit and that was a single by R. West. Thorntons were able to pick up two safeties, one each by Leisure and Carman.

Friday (tonight) will wrap up the season for both the Men's League and the Girls' League. FOP and Staunton will play the final game for the Men's loop and the Zorros and Dames will battle in the Girls' division.

Two SWO Games In County Sunday

Two of Eight Teams Are Not Scheduled

Two of the Fayette County teams in the Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League will play at home Sunday. Good Hope will be host to Greenfield. This game was originally scheduled for Greenfield, but work is being done on the diamond there. Mt. Sterling will play Milledgeville on the Jeffersonville High School field.

In the league action Sunday, the Chillicothe Businessmen will play the Reformatory on the latter's field. Bloomingburg and Blanchester will be idle.

Tom Smalley, secretary of the league, said that the teams will play whenever possible in order to make up all of the rained out games. All games were rained out last Sunday.

Chillicothe is currently in first place with a record of nine wins and three losses. In second place is Greenfield with a record of six and three. Third place is shared by the Reformatory and Milledgeville teams with seven victories and five defeats each.

Bloomingburg is right behind with six wins and five losses. Good Hope has a record of five and five while Blanchester stands at four and eight. Mt. Sterling has failed to win a game this season and now has 10 losses to its record.

HAMBLETONIAN DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP)—The Hambletonian, trotting classic for 3-year-olds, will be held through 1962 at DuQuoin State Fairgrounds, preserving the race's rural setting over Eastern bidders with open check books.

"Courthouse" Co-captain of Vols Carl Smith Back at Tennessee To Start Football Practice

Carl Smith, who ran wild as a half back for the Washington C. H. High School Lions, left here Thursday for Knoxville, Tenn., to begin football practice with the University of Tennessee Volunteers.

This will be the former all-Ohio high school player's third year as a varsity full back for the Vols. Smith is co-captain of the team this year along with Bobby Urbana.

"Courthouse" Smith, as he is known in and around Knoxville, will start workouts with the team Monday. The Vols' first game is Sept. 27 against Auburn, 1957 national champs, at Birmingham, Ala. The game will be televised.

Smith will start practice 22 pounds over his normal playing weight. When he left Washington C. H., he weighed 212, but said he wants to get down to 190 pounds.

"COURTHOUSE" has been playing in the backfield usually as the fullback. This will be his last year of college football. He is majoring in physical education.

Carl has been attracting attention throughout the country for his football feats at Tennessee. He is one of hardest hitting ball carriers and blockers on the Volunteer squad.

Smith, who served in the Army for two years, was graduated from WHS in 1953. During his four years of football here, he became the state's leading scorer and was chosen for the All-American High School team in 1952.

Smith picked up the nickname of "Courthouse" in Tennessee and is even called that at times in newspaper articles in Knoxville. What about the future? Well, he

Variety Marks Grange Program

Election To Be Held At Next Meeting

New officers of the Fayette Grange will be elected at the September meeting.

This was announced at the meeting held Thursday night in the Grange Hall on W. Elm St. Master Frank Dill presided over the business session at which the usual reports were read and approved.

He announced that Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Johnson will be hostesses for the next meeting.

Mrs. Darrell Weinrich, lecturer, was in charge of the program. Lynda Stephenson, a member of the Wilson Country Sisters 4-H Club, presented her essay on "Safety Is Better than Compensation." Miss Stephenson placed first in the Fayette County 4-H Safety Speaking Contest with this essay and was third in the district contest.

Mrs. Walter Carman, senior counselor for the Junior 4-H Club Camp at Camp Clifton, gave a report of her experiences at camp. Donna Dill, Karen Carman and Barbara Carman, all members of the Fayette Grange, attended the camp.

A piano duet, "Canadian Capers," was given by Barbara and Karen Carman. Mrs. Hugh Smith gave a reading, "The Secretary," and Mrs. Ruth Ann Carwile read, "Start The Day Right."

After the program, each Grange member told of some experience during school days. The meeting closed with the singing of "Be Faithful, O Patron."

White Rd. Span Is Open Again

The White Rd. bridge in Marion Township was opened to through traffic Thursday evening with the completion of a new steel beam bridge over Crooked Creek.

The former bridge was damaged and weakened by rerouting of heavy truck traffic over it following the closing of the bridge near New Holland on Route 22 a few weeks ago. The flooring gave way on the White Rd. bridge necessitating a new structure.

The state furnished material for the new bridge and the county highway crew handled the construction.

Bonds forfeited for failure to appear on reckless operation charges were by Lon J. Hughes, 28, Reynolds Rd., $25; and Paul Henry Jones, 35, Cincinnati, $20.

Four drivers received suspended $5 fines for speeding. They were William B. Seyfang, 29, Route 4 Berry G. Kennedy, 25, of 917 S. Fayette St., Billy H. Purcell, 32, Miami Trace Rd.; and Jane Jones, 42, Louisiana, Mo. They still had to pay court costs.

Police Seeking Station Prowler

The police station in City Hall is a well guarded place.

But it has been the scene of a break-in. This morning when Chief D. Vaiden Long opened a drawer to check on some past records he found evidence of illegal entry.

The edges of the papers were frayed: There were signs that the drawer had been ransacked. Later Friday morning a mousetrap was set in the drawer to capture the culprit.

For banking,
a banker,
for vitamins,
a pharmacist

When you want guidance in a specific field, you go to an expert. You know you'll get the right answers and, as a result, save yourself time and money.

For financial advice, you consult your banker because you appreciate the value of his experience.

In medical matters, this logic is even more important. Vitamins, which are medicinal products, are being peddled door to door by people without professional training.

For vitamins and medicines rely on your physician and pharmacist. Both are dedicated to the protection of your health.

Cafeterias at Jeffersonville, Bookwalter and New Holland schools will be ready for students Wednesday, the opening day of classes in the Miami Trace school system.

More than 500 At Elks Stag

600 lbs. of Chicken Served at Fairground

One thing will have to be said for most of those who went to the annual stag party held by the Elks Lodge at the Fairground Thursday evening—they certainly were well fed!

Horace Jacobs, exalted ruler and general chairman, said Friday that 379 men consumed 600 pounds of chicken, 90 dozen ears of corn and four bushels of tomatoes. They also used 25 pounds of butter on their corn and rolls and drank more than 25 gallons of coffee.

Serving, cafeteria - style started at 6 p. m. in the Merchants Building.

Before the evening ended, however, an estimated 200 more came to take in the after - supper festivities. Delegations came from lodges in several nearby cities.

Jacobs described the stag party as the principal fund - raising project of the lodge. The proceeds will go into the welfare fund which finances, among other things, a dental program for needy children. Jacobs said it will be some time before the exact amount cleared this year will be known.

Charles James was chairman of the ticket committee, William Stoughton headed the supplies committee, and Charles Funk and Joe Loudner were in charge of the dinner. The chickens were fried by the American Legion Auxiliary and taken to the party ready for serving.

Woman Faces Grand Jury in Forgery Case

A former Fayette County woman was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of forgery in Municipal Court Friday.

Mrs. Judy Edmonson Groves, 20, whose present address is Route 1, Plain City, pleaded not guilty of passing a $75 check signed with the name "Eugene Heath" at Eavey Supermarket, 1151 Columbus Ave., on Aug. 10. The complaint was filed by John Lawson, manager.

Mrs. Groves' bond was set at $500.

It was brought out in court that an earlier check she was accused of passing at another supermarket was made good by a relative.

Girl, 4, Injured In Auto Collision

A 4-year-old girl was treated for an injured left cheek at Fayette Memorial Hospital after her father was involved in a two-car accident Thursday evening.

Police said a car driven by Mary L. Mills, 58, of Sabina, pulled into the center lane of traffic, hitting a car driven by James H. Chakeres, 41, of CCC Highway north at 6:45 p. m. on Court St. just east of Fayette St.

The Sabina woman told police that a car pulling from a parking space caused her to stop and that the Chakeres car ran into the side of her auto. Neither driver was cited.

Sandra Chakeres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Chakeres, fell forward and struck the dash of the car. She was treated and released.

Big Crowd Expected At Last Park Dance

With clear skies and warm weather, one of the biggest crowds of the season is expected at the sixth and last fifty - fifty dance at Community Park Friday night.

Fred Domenico, the recreation director, said Friday morning that the turnouts for the dances have been averaging between 500 and 700 and added that "with this good weather, tonight's should be the best of the summer."

The dance will be sponsored by a new group known as the Football Lunch Committee. The committee hopes to raise money to pay for the lunches served the WIS football squad during the pre-school practice season. The squad, which has been kept pretty much intact all day during the two - a - day drills since Aug. 20, has had three lunches at the Main Restaurant, three at Anderson's Restaurant and is winding up with three at the Sunnyside Restaurant. Head Coach Domenico explained that money for such "extras" comes from outside regular school or Athletic Assn. funds.

Dancing will start to recorded music at 8:30 p. m. and continue until midnight on the hard surfaced court. Clarence McDermott will again provide the music.

Mothers Are To Go With Beginners to School Tuesday

Pupils and teachers in the Washington C. H. schools — with the exception of those in the first grade—will start right out on a full day's schedule Tuesday, Superintendent W. A. Smith said.

Mothers of the first graders are to accompany them to the morning session and take their children's birth certificates for the teachers to copy for the record. The first graders are to go to school at 8:30 a. m. and will be dismissed at 10 a. m. They are to return at 1 p. m. for an hour in the afternoon.

All the rest of the students will start to school at 8:30 a. m. for the full day's schedule.

Although classes will not start until the day after Labor Day, the city teachers have been on duty all this week at workshop sessions, morning and afternoon. Some of these sessions have been addressed by specialists from the state Department of Education on basic education subjects. At others, the overall school program was outlined and explained.
